

Organise your job search

A step-by-step guide to looking for work in an organised way, without stress.

Swipe →

Get your papers ready

Before you start, prepare a folder.

NIE, TIE or passport

And your work permit, if you have one

Padrón and qualifications

If they are from another country, check if they are recognised

CV in PDF

Up to date and easy to read

Everything on your phone and on paper

So you have it when they ask

Build a routine

Looking for work is a job too.

Fixed days and times

For example, three mornings a week

A list of companies

Where you would like to work, near your home

Small goals

How many applications you will send this week

Look in reliable places

There are many fake offers. Be careful.

Canary Islands Employment Service (SCE)

Register as a job seeker

Well-known job sites

InfoJobs, Indeed and company websites

Groups you trust

Like the Ubuntu Canarias job group

Never pay for a job

No personal details, no money over WhatsApp

Write everything down

If you don't write it down, you forget who you wrote to.

Company and job

Date you applied

Contact and how you applied

Website, email, WhatsApp or in person

How it is going

Sent, interview or not selected

Talk to people

Many jobs come through someone who knows you.

Say what you are looking for

To neighbours, friends and your community

Go to courses and workshops

You learn and meet other people

Ask, and help too

If you hear of a job, share it

Check what works

Once a month, look at your notes.

How many replies have you had?

How many interviews?

Where do you get more answers?

If nobody replies, change one thing: your CV or where you look. Not everything at once.

Save it and share it

To have it at hand and help someone else who is also looking.

Save it to see it again

Share it

with someone who needs it
